“But select capable men from all the people – men who fear God, trustworthy men who hate dishonest gain – and appoint them as officials over thousands, hundreds, fifties, and tens.”
Exodus 18:21

PROCESS	Sponsoring & Mentoring an Emerging Leader <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Emerging leaders are ultimately responsible for their own leadership and spiritual growth. They seek their sponsor's help and guidance as needed. An emerging leader must be sponsored by an incumbent leader. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sponsors are responsible for ensuring their candidates are: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Mentored by a qualified person based on the emerging leader's development needs. 2) Equipped to successfully participate at leadership forums, and other training and development opportunities. • Mentors are responsible for walking side by side with the emerging leader, coaching them in the areas mutually agreed to by the sponsor, mentor, and the emerging leader. Areas may include spiritual, practical and leadership training and development. • Pastors, Directors, Staff Leaders, Team Leaders and Ministry Leaders have "ownership" of their ministries. Thus, they are expected to raise up leaders within their organization. When a leader discerns an emerging leader for a function or activity outside of their ministry area, they are responsible for making a referral to the responsible Pastor, Director or Staff Leader.
	Affirming the Call <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Together, sponsors and emerging leaders review the emerging leader's spiritual gifts survey results to ensure their spiritual gifts are aligned to the needs of the leadership position. • The sponsor is responsible for examining a person's call to leadership. This means validating that a candidate: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Meets the requirements of 1 Timothy 3:8-15. ○ Is pursuing full devotion to Jesus Christ. ○ Demonstrates a passion for the ministry and its people. ○ Tithes faithfully.

Affirming the Call – Cont’d

- When a candidate is approved for ministry leadership, the leader is automatically placed on six months’ evaluation. During this period, the sponsor monitors the new leader’s growth and progress.
- If at any time the sponsor, or the new leader, discerns that the new leader is not the right fit for the position, the new leader will step away from leadership and be celebrated for his or her honesty, courage, and commitment to finding their true Kingdom purpose.
- After a leader completes the six-month evaluation period, the Elders will anoint the leader at an appropriate forum with the laying on of hands, and celebrate the leader’s Kingdom purpose and calling.

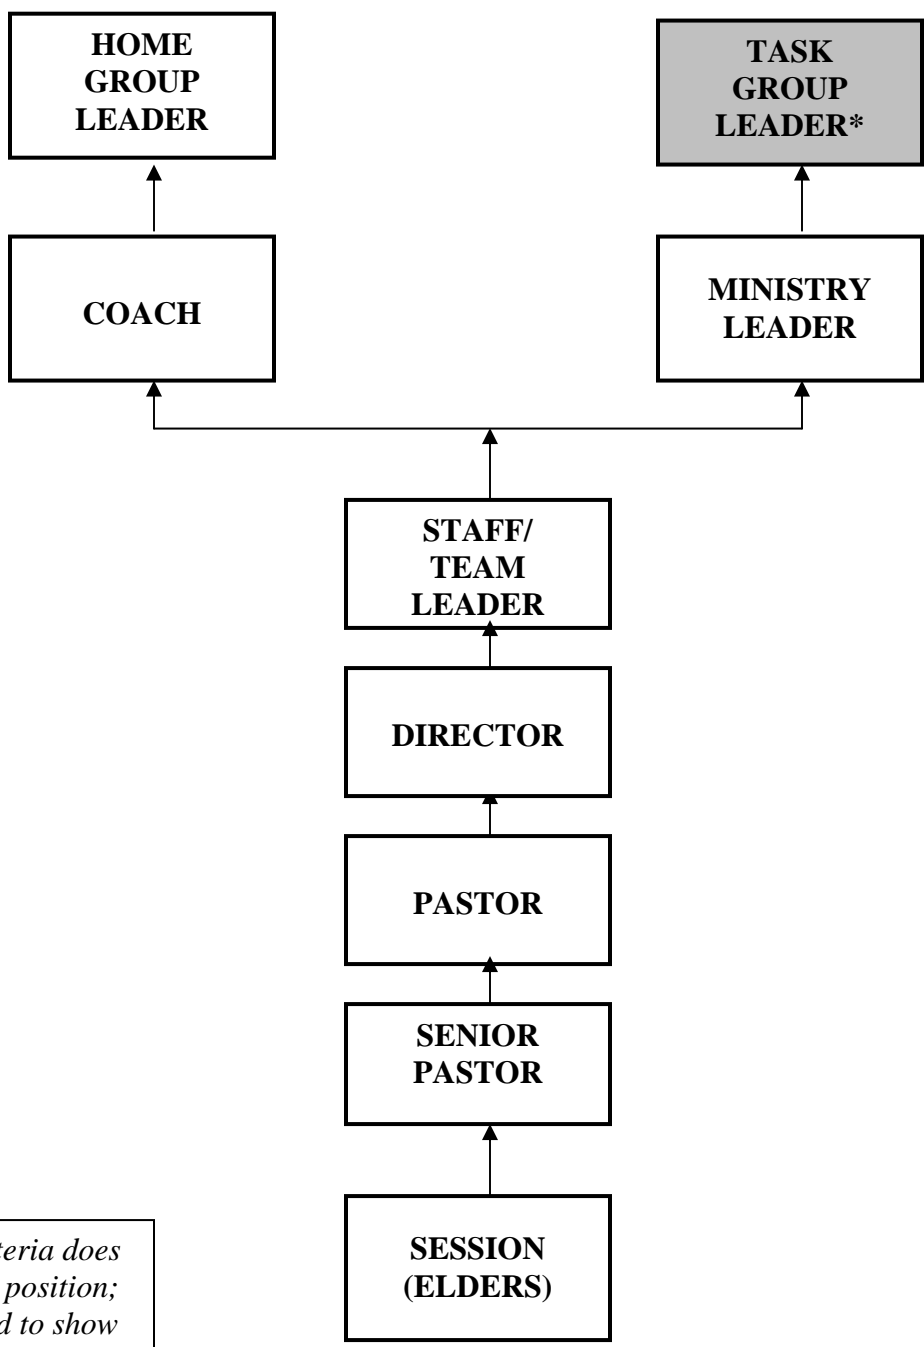

“And He gave some as apostles, and some as prophets, and some as evangelists, and some as pastors and teachers, for the equipping of the saints for the work of service, to the building up of the body of Christ ... for the building up of itself in love.”

APPRENTICE LEADERS

An Apprentice Leader is someone who is being mentored and coached to take over for that leader, or to assume a leadership for some other groups that are forming within their ministry area. It is the responsibility of the Apprentice's mentor to construct a personal leadership development plan for the apprentice.

There is no formal process for nominating and affirming Apprentices at the Task or Home Group levels. Still, the sponsoring Leader should ensure the Apprentice is on the path towards meeting the leadership requirements for the position they're apprenticing for.

Serving as an Apprentice Leader is a "risk-free, trial basis" role that is designed to see if a person is ready to lead at the next level.

HOME GROUP LEADERS

Home Group Leaders typically lead 8-12 people who have an affinity toward a particular relationship, discipleship study, support group, serving passion, or season of life. They are front line leaders who are closest to the people and care for them.

In addition to the criteria on page 1, candidates for Home Group Leaders should:

- ▶ Have demonstrated leadership abilities, or be interested in developing leadership skills.
- ▶ Have been very closely mentored by a Ministry Leader or a Home Group Coach. *

In this case, the Ministry Leader will coordinate their transition with a Home Group Coach or the Discipleship Pastor. The Discipleship Pastor or a Home Group Coach will formally sponsor the Home Group Leader candidate through the leadership process.

A person may start out in a home group and eventually become a Home Group Apprentice Leader. When the Apprentice is ready to lead their own group, a Home Group Coach or Discipleship will sponsor them through the leadership process.

TASK GROUP LEADERS

A Task Group Leader – like an Apprentice Leader – is a more “informal, entry-level” leadership role. Task Leaders typically supervise a group of 6-10 people who accomplish a specific task or activity within a Ministry. They are often the technical experts for a task.

Task Group Leaders are closely supervised by a Ministry Leader and need not be formal, participating members of Chesapeake Church. Their level of leadership responsibility and authority is low. Their energies are focused mainly of organizing and supervising volunteer tasks.

Similar in some ways to Home Group Leaders, Task Leaders are front line leaders who are closest to the people and care for them. At the same time, because of their more informal nature, the responsibility for care still remains with the Ministry Leader and/or Staff Director/Pastor.

Task Leadership is often a training ground for new formal leaders. A person may start out serving in a task ministry group and naturally progress to a leadership level based on their gifts and God’s calling. In this case, their Ministry Leader sponsors them through the leadership process.

Additionally, a person may start out in a home group and discover they are better suited for a high task environment, which is typical of ministry groups. In this case, their Home Group Leader will coordinate the transition through the Home Group Coach/Discipleship Pastor. The Coach, in turn, coordinates with the Ministry Leader where the individual feels called to lead.
